A BRIEF HARNESS INTRODUCTORY

If you are a first time harness buyer and need assistance, our staff will gladly help you!

Welcome to our new catalogue, featuring new styles and many new sizes of harnesses. Most of these we keep in stock for immediate shipment. If you would like a size or style not shown, please ask for a price quote as we will try to build a harness to your liking! We also make specialty harnesses for many applications, from goats to dogs. We also manufacture many products not related to the harness industry, so if needing a certain item made that is not available or too costly elsewhere give us a try.

Under each style of harness the sizes are listed, each size will be built in proportion. Please Note: If a harness does not fit properly we will modify or exchange it. All standard parts are listed under each harness but feel free to exchange a standard part for an optional part on the page beside.

If wanting a single draft style harness see page 27 for a single setup. Choose a model you want and add an (S) (examples #210S / #580S / #572S) When ordering parts only, choose the model plus the part number. (Example -#208-18 breaststrap / #115-34 hold backs / #418-38 bridle) check if priced per set , pair , or each.

All of our harnesses are made within the community so we have a tight quality control. If there is a problem with workmanship or quality please let us know. We try to use the most durable materials we can find to build our harnesses, and are always striving to improve our products. Listed below is a brief description of materials we use:

Biothane, Granite, Beta are bought from a long established company – Bioplastics

Biothane – a nylon webbing, coated with a hard shiny urethane, the most durable material used for harnesses.

Granite – a nylon webbing, coated with a dull black PVC, leather look, very durable, more flexible than biothane, the most popular material for harnesses as it resembles leather but much stronger, very lightweight, and easy to maintain.

Beta – a nylon webbing coated with soft PVC, most popular for lines, very strong and flexible, all our synthetic harnesses come with these lines.

Nylon – the most durable and strongest material used to build harnesses etc., also the most inexpensive!

Please Note – The 4 materials above can be washed with soap and water or use pressure washer without harm to harnesses!

Leather- we make all our styles and models in genuine leather on special order, as it is the most expensive material although the most durable, it will last a lifetime if taken care of properly!

All special orders require a 50% down-payment at time of order, balance upon delivery. See page 6 for special harness measurement form. Fill out and email, fax or mail it upon ordering.

Harness Service: Any type of harness can be brought or shipped in for cleaning, oiling, repairs or alterations.

SAFETY HINTS !

Never

- Try to put a bridle on a horse when away from home without first securing him with a rope around his neck.
- Start to hitch a horse to a vehicle without having the line (reins) fastened onto bit.
- Try to back a horse between shafts that are lying on the ground.
- Leave the lines unbuckled in case one should be dropped while driving or getting on or off vehicle.
- Take off bridle while horse is hitched to vehicle, even when he has a halter on or when tied up.
- Leave a nervous horse tied to the side of trailer or van.
- Start to unhitch a horse in unfamiliar surroundings without a capable person helping.
- Allow a person to sit in the carriage before the driver has taken his place.
- Drive too close to the carriage in front of you.
- Allow your attention to be distracted.
- Take a completely green horse to a show or driving event, first find out how he behaves when being driven at home.
- Allow horses to canter or gallop in harness - Only the most skilled drivers should do so.

Always

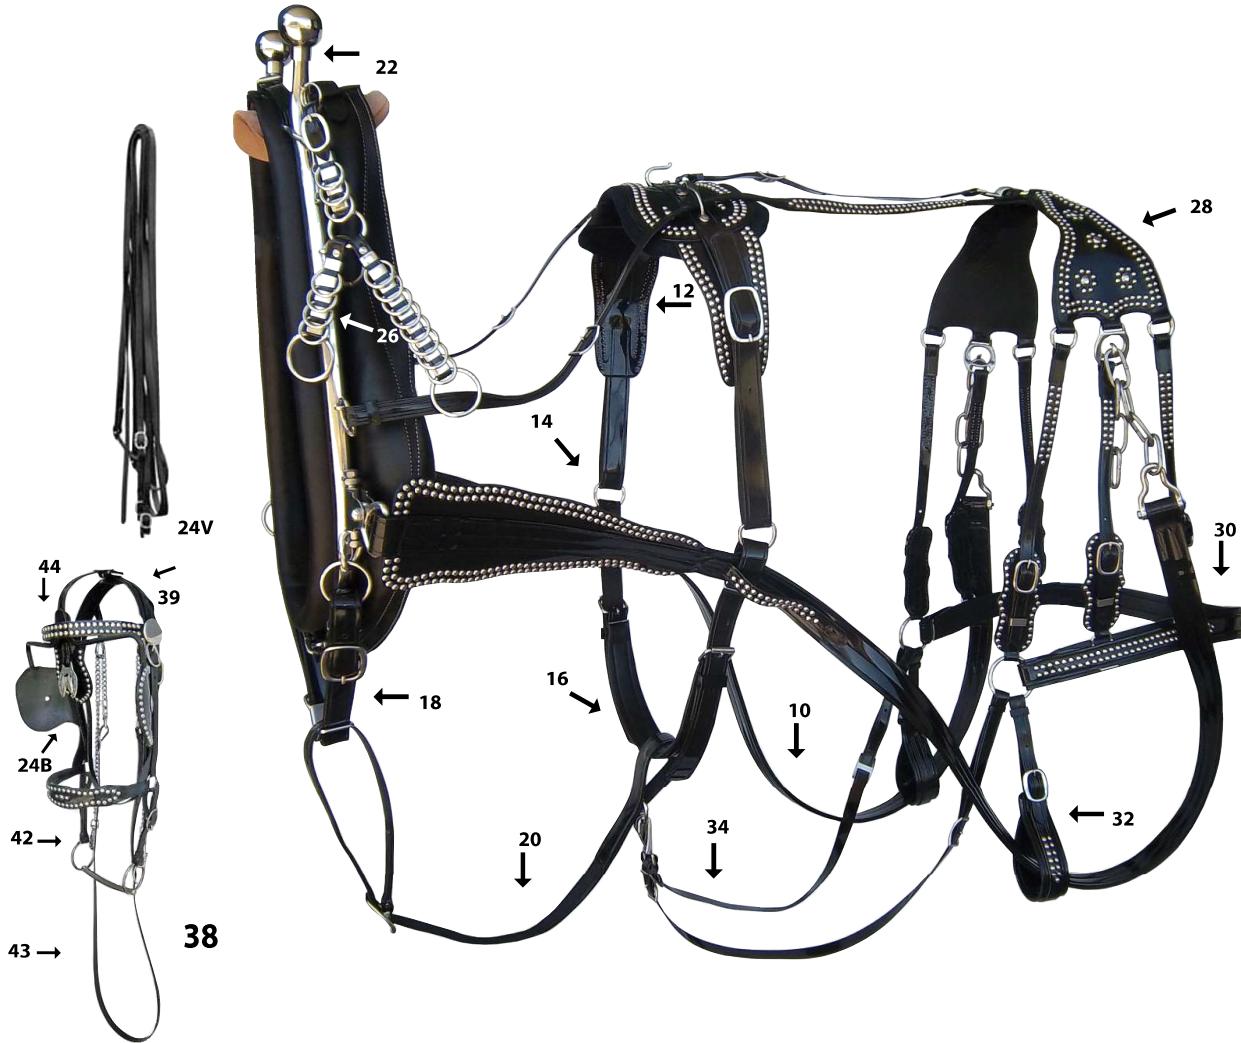

- Remember to signal to other traffic before turning.
- Take great care in passing another carriage, make sure you have a clear view of road in front.
- Have an active and capable person with you when driving a green broke horse.
- Be watchful of your horse , especially his ears, which may give warning of his alarm at something he has seen or heard.

HOW TO MEASURE A HORSE FOR A COLLAR

Length from top to base of neck at proper position of collar. Line should be straight, not conforming to the horse's body. If possible, measure a collar which fits the horse, using the inside dimensions of the collar, as shown.

You can make a makeshift measure by using two carpenter squares. (If you only have one cut another out of cardboard.) Place them together to form a "C" in front of the withers, place the bottom of the "C" two inches in front of the shoulders. Be sure to allow finger room at the base of the throat. Measure the inside of the "C" to obtain the size.

Another option is to measure the circumference of the widest part of the front leg (usually under the arm pit). This has been giving us the collar size within a inch or so.

Hames must be so fitted that hame tug comes on centre of draft.

Mr. Sticky Fly Tape System

Sticky Roll™ effectively catches, controls and eliminates flies because it's based on their natural habits. Flies follow the warm updrafts in rooms and barns, seeking a resting place near the ceiling. They become entrapped in Sticky Roll, then become an irresistible attractant to other flies. No baits, toxins, or pheromones are necessary. Soon the tape is black with dead flies. When a length of tape is full, crank it up, flies and all onto the disposable take-up reel. Fresh tape is rolled out at the same time, ready to grab more flies. Sticky Roll™ reel-to-reel Fly Tape System is available in several sizes, ranging from the 8 foot Quick Strip to the Deluxe Kit with 600 or 1000 feet of tape, and features attractive, informative packaging.

#3107 HORSE FARMING IN NORTHERN NEW BRUNSWICK

Craig Caldwell, his wife, Lori and their two children, Heather-Ann and James live in Belledune, Northern New Brunswick. They work approximately 35 acres on the home farm and manage over 150 acres on neighbouring farms. Besides their horses, they run a small herd of 20 beef cows. The Caldwells do own 2 tractors (one for grinding grain and one for loader work); however, they use their horses in all aspects of their operation. They use their Belgians from plowing to harrowing, spreading manure to seeding, mowing and raking to binding and logging. Heather-Ann loves to ride her Belgian mare, Belle. The Caldwell's horses are very much a part of their family and a way of life. The field work is completed with two teams, with three abreast being the biggest hitch they currently use. Bernard Shannon, Caldwell's neighbour and friend is the second teamster who assists Craig on the farm. With the two teams, Craig is pleased with the amount of ground they cover leaving the horses in good shape and not too tired for the next day. Despite the adversity of farming, using horses makes the work enjoyable and meaningful. Craig has farmed with lots of big equipment and fancy tractors, but nothing can come close to the subtle craft of the teamster. Craig explains in detail his mowers, tedders, binder, dump cart and how they gather firewood with the horses. The Caldwell's feel this is truly a more sustainable way to farm.
